CALIFORNIA

California's a land of beauty,
Of trees and flowers fair,
Of plains and snow-capped mountains, too,
And sunshine everywhere.

California's a land of plenty,
Of orchards, fields, and streams,
Of busy cities, happy people,
Land of golden dreams.
Our praise to thee is due.
O California, we ever will be true.

—Sally Tymstra.

CALIFORNIA

California, popularly called the "Golden State," has a history both colorful and romantic. The name, California, was first used in a story written before America was discovered. In this story California was the name of an island far, far away. Here lived black-skinned people ruled over by a queen, Queen Calafia. On the island there was much gold.

The first colonization of California, in 1759, was by Franciscan friars under Junipero Serra. By 1800 they had eighteen missions and a few thousand Indian converts. By 1834, when the Mexican government confiscated the missions, they had 80,000 Indian converts and had worked wonders in cattle and wheat raising. California was seized by the United States in 1846 and became theirs at the close of the Mexican War. Gold was discovered in 1848, and in 1849 the great gold rush began. The state was admitted to the Union in 1850 as a free state, and its gold helped materially in financing the Civil War.

The state, ranked as an agricultural state, is a leading producer of oranges, lemons, grapefruit, grapes, small fruits, vegetables, nuts, and grains. In the South and in the San Joaquin Valley oil is found. Even on the beaches along the Pacific Ocean there is oil under the sand. This crop brings many workers to the oil fields and much wealth to the state. It is rich in minerals, too, leading the states in the production of gold, and it has an extensive supply of silver, copper, tungsten, and quicksilver.

For a period of relaxation or a happy vacation, you may rest in the cool shade of the biggest trees in the world, California's giant redwoods. You might wish to ascend Mt. Whitney, the highest mountain in the whole United States, or wander into Death Valley, the lowest land. Then there are snow-capped Mt. Shasta, the beautiful valley of Yosemite, or the shining blue water of Lake Tahoe to allure you.

Two of the world's greatest bridges have been built as part of the highway system of the state, both crossing San Francisco Bay. One spans the Golden Gate carrying the traffic north and south along the coast of California, and the other links San Francisco with the eastbay cities. Smooth paved highways lead to all parts of the state making travel and trade easier and faster and binding all parts of the state together in friendship and progress. Its excellent transportation system and rapid industrial advancement have given California the privilege of playing a very vital part in America's victory program.

ALL PART OF OUR CALIFORNIA

The sun-gilded blue sky above us,
The poppy-gilt green fields below,
The pine trees that rim the Sierras
Where silver-tongued rivulets flow,
The wide sweeps of beaches and ocean,
The white clouds that sail in the blue,
They're all part of our own California,
Always gay, always bright, always new.

—Kirby Moulton.

A CHALLENGE

"Bring me men to match my mountains." This fragment from the writings of a prophetic bard is emblazoned on the front of one of our State office buildings at Sacramento. This is a perpetual challenge to Californians, both native and adopted. It places an ever new and ever greater emphasis upon the importance of the individual as the unit of all democratic government.

As we as individuals become more worthy citizens, ours will truly approach the ideal of "government of the people, by the people, and for the people." My wish for you as citizens of Willard is that your ideals transmuted into service to your fellow men may truly prove a match for our towering mountains.

—C. K. Hayes.

CALIFORNIA'S RICHES

California, you have fabulous wealth
In your mountains, valleys, and fertile fields.
Men come to you to restore their health
And marvel at your bright sun that heals.

California, you're a glorious state
From your lofty mountains to your Golden Gate.
With your giant sequoias and silvery streams,
You are the answer to every man's dreams.

—Marion Green.

LET'S BE READY

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the excellent educational opportunities afforded us here at Willard. The city of Berkeley in our fair state of California, in which our school is located, is reputed far and wide as a center of intellectual progress, and it rests with us as individuals to see that we make the most of our community's generosity privileging us to prepare ourselves physically, mentally, morally, and socially for the new order of events the future has to offer for the freedom, security, and peace of the world. American youth must be ready.

—Jim Slusser.

A PATRIOTIC PROJECT

The challenge of the times has meant an "all out" program for victory, and the combined efforts of the Council and Senate have resulted in a series of most successful assemblies and dances for war service projects. The entire responsibility for the sale of War Stamps and Bonds at Willard this term was given over to the Council. President Jim Slusser and his able corps of assistants with the enthusiastic backing of the Student Body have attained excellent sales' results. Competition between the Upper and Lower Divisions has been keen and "higher highs" have been their daily aim.

THE CALIFORNIA SPIRIT

California is one of the best of states
For reasons more than one,
The quality of our leaders true
And the outstanding things they've done.

The spirit of our people fine
And the warmness in their hearts
Make our state a welcome home
For people from all parts.

We foresee a future glorious
And have seen a colorful past
For the many who aim and seek for the best
Will keep us progressing fast.

—Mary Macaulay.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT...ORDER

STUDENT CONTROL

The Junior Traffic Squad is now a division of the Student Control. The Control's new policy of circulating ranking officers and shifting posts as well as the drafting of a Lower Division usher squad for assembly duty has met with the hearty approval of the Student Body. Chief Richard Comstock and Capt. Myron Tobenkin have aimed for efficiency and justice, and they have been pleased with the results.

STUDENT CONTROL BOARD

THE "EST" STATE

California is the "est" state.
One "est" is the Golden Gate.
Another "est," the redwood trees,
Swaying grandly in the breeze.

See Mount Whitney towering highest,
Death Valley, lowest plain and driest.
All are in this state out west.
The climate, too, is of the best.

—Betty Stuart.

CALIFORNIA ACHIEVES

In the state of California
Where the symbol is the bear,
Where the flower is the poppy,
And there's sunshine everywhere;

In the land of California
Where the mountains face the sea,
Where mighty ships designed and made
Sale on to victory;

In the state of California
Where there's great fertility,
Where things are planned and really done,
That's where I want to be.

WILLARD IN HARMONY

You just haven't caught the Willard stride unless you have had your share of program pleasure in one of Willard's musical organizations. They have been in constant demand for assemblies, P.T.A. meetings, community programs, and their own concerts, cantata, and operetta, as well.

In the early morning hours the orchestras and band are trimming the strings, tattooing the drums, or blasting the trumpets, while throughout the day the tuneful tones of the happy voices of chorals and glees peal forth in delightful cadence.

PIONEER VISIONS

The weary Forty-niners come at last to journey's close.
They look down from high Sierras near the skies,
And lo! before them, stretched in beautiful repose,
The land of California meets their eyes.

Perhaps 'twas more they saw as they gazed from mountain top,
Not only that which was but things to be:
The many fertile fields, the roads that never stop,
The ships that sail far out into the sea;
Great cities with their homes and schools, their churches and their parks,
And industries, joy and pride of this the Golden State;
But, most important, friendly folks, all happy as the larks,
For truly 'tis its people that make California great.

—Bob Atkinson.

FOR VICTORY

Our nation's in a battle,
And we cheer for it with pride,
But cheering never won a war,
We've got to help our side.

Sons will man the weapons,
Daughters heal the sick,
So now it's up to all of us
To make their victories stick.

By buying loads of Stamps and Bonds,
We'll keep our good position,
So that our boys can "Praise the Lord
And Pass the Ammunition."

THE RED CROSS

The Red Cross stands for everything fine.
In all parts of the globe it stands right in line
To aid the lonely, sick, and poor,
And provide for them a timely cure,

And our boys in farflung lonely places,
All of different creeds and races,
Turn toward the Red Cross for consolation,
In many lands from different nations.

To every town and countryside,
Where countless thousands cruelly die,
Untiringly the Red Cross comes,
Gives help, and rebuilds the broken homes.

WRAPPED IN BLUE

California is a wonderful place,
We know that that is true,
Seas of green and deserts of white
Wrapped up in a heavenly blue.

It's a grand and glorious golden place
With a back door of mountains and snow
And a front of endlessly dancing seas
And miles and miles of ground to sow.

—Samm Axtell.

MARCH OF TIME

September 14
School has opened, and programs are made.
Let's cross our fingers and hope for best grades.

September 15
The first raid drill was decidedly O.K.
We'll teach our enemy the game we play.

September 17
Pupils roaming in upper floor highways at noon
Are planning to test court penalties soon.

Whistling, yelling, banging, running
Will bring a student officer gunning.

September 18
Today we're really happy. We've been told we're very good.
We've all willingly made adjustments in the way all good sports should.

September 21
An assembly today for both divisions.
We hope both met with friendly additions.

Long ears and short had the "hear" test today.
"Didn't hear the assignment" from now on won't pay.

September 22
No short cuts, Mr. Public. Obey traffic laws.
It's cooperation of all in democracy's halls.

September 23
The first meeting today was held of the court.
A ticket's no joke. Don't get gay, young sport.

September 24
Orchestra members had their first meeting today.
To strains of reeds, strings, and brasses we'll soon swing and sway.

September 25
Fellows, we have a field on which in sports to meet.
Why battle with the ball in the traffic of the street?

September 26
The wonderful Willard Warblers and the court skit as well
Kept us all laughing for quite a merry spell.

September 27
The Usher Squad, now ranking officers, was in command in Willard's hall.
Their presence awed the stoutest. Peace and quiet reigned for all.

Football games at the stadium Traffic Police will see.
The invitation from Chief Greening was accepted with glee.

September 28
All girls of the Glee Club have term tryouts today.
Happy they are if they win a chance to stay.

September 29
No matching pennies or other games of chance.
Invest your extra money in War Savings Stamos.

October 1
Afternoon kickball started today.
Kickers and fussers go out and stay.

October 2
If you don't put your bike in the rack right away,
You'll find you've a ticket some fine day.

Ninth period's the time when Big Sisters meet
With Willard's new girls for a friendly treat.

October 6
We appointed a committee to round up all scrap
To help in the scrap of beating the Jap.

Not to interfere with an officer is something to learn.
When they are on duty, that's their chief concern

October 8
A fire drill we had today,
And a brand new fire truck was on display.

October 9
Congratulations, Willardites, a new high you are scoring
For the sale of Student Body Cards is rapidly soaring.

Don't play in the shrubs. Give them a "break."
Keep the grounds neat. Spare that sprain and ache.

October 12
Why not buy $5 shoes 'stead of $10 boots
And invest $5 to lick Axis troops.

October 15
Lost and Found is open daily. You may find there some lost thoughts.
Books turned in may reveal their whereabouts. Inquire! You ought!

October 16
The League's low-eight high-eight party was given today.
All those present were cheerful and gay.

October 19
Boys' Glee sang for Berkeley's War Chest.
For their country they did their best.

October 23
The Key Drive totals were today placed before us
With leading honors for Donald Jacobus.

October 26
Willard's right on the beam in fashions, we'll say!
Our girls modeled some smart ones they made here. Sewing pays.

The boys are practicing, the noise is dinning
For the basketball season is just beginning.

October 30
Twenty-two advisories registered one hundred per cent.
Best record in history when the Girls' League Drive was spent.

Spick and span for the camera man!
Pictures for the "Target" today began.

"Come one, come all!" was the League's call to dance
And at 2:30 prompt the spooks began to prance.

MARCH OF TIME

November 2
For dimes and quarters down deep we dive
Because today begins the War Stamp Drive.

Nails are jagged.
Nerves are ragged.
Report cards bagged!

November 4
The basketball Unlimiteds today signed up.
Just watch those huskies do their stuff!

The vocal cords of Willard's Boys' Glee
Were melodiously stretched at our P.T.A.

November 5
Don't eat lunch on a neighbor's lot.
The school ground you'll find a far better spot.

November 6
The Low Nine Big Sisters know how to be gay
And their High Seven party put on in big way.

November 10
School let out for the first time this fall,
And Armistice Day was enjoyed by all.

November 16
The Key to Life Club was given news
By Robert Griffith on his African cruise.
High Nines wreathed in smiles sat up very straight.
Their big group picture was taken this date.

November 17
Uncle Sam and the Warblers paraded Willard's halls
And raised Stamp and Bond sales with their patriotic calls.

Up to the library we ran for a peak
To see the new books bought for Children's Book Week.

November 18
The Girl Reserves had a meeting today,
Their sport-hike-dance program was on display.

November 20
In Alaska more comfort will be brought to our men
Because of the cushion covers we've made for them.

Today we flocked to the Red Cross dance
To give our allies a right good chance.

November 23
Those proud winners of scholarship awards
Were deserving of all the ready applause.

November 24
The Ninth Grade dance was a grand affair.
Cal-Pre-Flight game tickets were prizes there.

Willard's washcloth donations in animal styles
Started out to bid for fighting men's smiles.

November 26
It's Thanksgiving! Willard is home all day
To give thanks for living the American way.

November 30
The Lower Division led in November's Stamp Drive,
And they receive a free period. Let us all strive.

December 3
The Low Seventh was best in the Cleanup Campaign.
Their fine work as you know was not in vain.

December 8
Student speakers from high school in speeches assuring
Made B.H.S. activities and sports most alluring.

December 9
Two movies today filled auditorium seats.
They were "Peoples of Canada" and values of "eats."

December 14
Second-period reports were placed in our hands.
Not machine guns but knee knocks—some shocks to withstand!

December 16
Bluebirds are turning for the Christmas season.
"Recognition" is near. Their fluttering has reason.

December 18
'Twas jolly good fun at the League's Christmas dance.
And to win Defense Stamps everyone had a chance.

The High Nines vacationed eighth period today.
Those little angels, what have they to say?

Today Willard's program of songs of the season
Filled our hearts with rejoicing, and purse strings were easin'.

We're all rushing home with vacation in mind.
We've been good, Santa dear. To us all please be kind.

January 4
Christmas is over, and New Year has past.
We're back to school now, and we've got to work fast.

January 11
Our Willard future looks very bright
Because our newly elected are really all right.

January 12
Girls gaily posed as patched country jerks
And wore jeans for the day instead of skirts.

January 14
At assembly today Uncle Sam's way was clear.
Buy War Bonds and Stamps and victory is near.

January 15
Oh, where were the skirts the brave boys were to wear?
To accept the girls' challenge they just didn't dare.

High scores in Stamp sales and "cleanup" declared
A ninth period reward in which we all shared.

January 22
The Senior Committee was dancing tonight.
How the lucky was envied who got an invite!

January 28
The W.G.L. seniors with candles ablaze
Passed on their honors but not without praise.

February 1
Student Body officers were inducted today.
They're fine looking leaders, who know Willard's way.

February 2
High Nines, you have honorable dismissal today.
Opportunity beckons. We know you can't stay.
Our best wishes go with you, a tip to you, too.
Be ready, be steady, and don't ration the A's.

February 3
School is out, and now we'll rest.
Let's make the next term the very best.

ALL FOR VICTORY

SERVICE

Willard has allied its forces one hundred per cent strong for victory. The entire student body and every member of the faculty is enrolled in the Red Cross. The schoolwide membership drive was under the capable supervision of George Hobart and Joyce Day, delegates from Willard Junior High to the Berkeley Chapter of the Junior Red Cross.

Besides cash donations to the organization totaling $198.61, 312 pillow covers were made and 11 Christmas boxes filled for our gunners on duty in Alaska. Seven hundred pounds of keys were collected of which the Red Cross will receive the benefit. Thirty-two ironing boards were designed, constructed, and covered for sharp-shooters stationed in this area. Three hundred forty-seven Christmas gifts were collected and wrapped to be distributed among our fighting men throughout the combat zones, and ten complete layettes were forwarded to Pearl Harbor. Talented art students submitted their poster, revealed in our cut, to national headquarters for the Junior American Red Cross poster contest.

Of course our regional hospitals were included in the season's service, and 221 menu folders, 122 Christmas cards, 215 nut cups, 4 writing folders, 160 washcloth animals, 24 boxes of puzzles, 80 books of crossword puzzles, and 1,706 mounted crossword puzzles were forwarded for the holiday pleasure of our men recuperating from wounds of battle.

Yes, Willard faculty and students have been and are steadily marching forward on the battlefield of service to hasten victory and world peace.

THE GREAT LADY--OUR RED CROSS

Wherever there're homeless children,
Or where helpless mothers lie,
Where our men are fighting with all their might,
She is always standing by.

Wherever there're pain and suffering,
Wherever there's grief or strife,
Our Red Cross is ever ready,
Ready to give new life.

If ever you're sick or in trouble
And think things couldn't be worse,
Remember there'll soon be beside you
The great lady, an American Red Cross nurse.

—Janet Harrison.

WILLARD GIRLS' LEAGUE

President Joyce Jaeger states that practically every girl at Willard has been enrolled as a member of the League this term and has had the privilege of enjoying its dances, big-sister parties, fashion show, and talent assemblies. This year, however, the League has had a much fuller program than usual doing war work. A dance was given to raise funds for the Junior Red Cross, magazines were collected for our camp libraries, and a crossword puzzle drive was conducted. The hundreds of puzzles received were mounted on cardboard by the League's members and given over to the Junior Red Cross in time for the holiday pleasure of our invalided soldiers. The girls have spent many a happy hour in service and the promotion of friendship.

CALIFORNIA

California is noted for its scenery,
Its trees and beautiful greenery.
Yes, it is very easy to see
What all this means to you and me.

You stand on a mountain top and know,
As the gentle sea breezes peacefully blow,
How lucky you are to be
In a state and country so wonderfully free.
Yes siree, and, man to man,
I'm glad to be an American.

—Walt Kolasa.

"TARGET" TICKLERS

Bill Bycraft: "What part of our civilization do we owe to the early Phoenicians?"
Robert Pizzano: "I know, Phoenician blinds."

Deborah Noack: "Why do birds fly south in the winter?"
Shirley Werner: "Because it's easier than walking."

Howard Albertsen: "Do you think I'm conceited about my brains?"
Jerry Reese: "Nonsense! I'm sure that nothing of the kind ever entered your head."

Matilda Shoenberg: "Have you ever had any stage experience?"
Lorraine Golis: "Once I had my leg in a cast."

Rosslynne Lindenberg: "Do you suppose this school is haunted?"
Virginia Smith: "What would make you think that?"
Rosslynne Lindenberg: "Well, everyone keeps talking about our school spirit."

Dick Robinson: "I got a hundred today."
Linda Truxall: "Tops! What subject?"
Dick: "Two, 60 in math. and 40 in Spanish."

Frank Lloyd (in cafeteria): "Hey, Tom! You've got your sleeve in my soup."
Tom Adams: "Oh, it's all right, Frank. It's an old coat. It won't hurt it."

Peter Wood: "Do you understand what syntax is?"
Don Brown: "Is that taxed now, too?"

Richard Comstock (in railroad station): "I want a ticket to New York."
Clerk: "Would you care to go by Buffalo?"
Richard: "I don't know. I've never ridden one."

Marian Covert: "Your reports should be written so that even the most ignorant person can understand them."
Pat O'Neill: "Indeed! Now what part didn't you understand?"

Bruce Geernaert: "Is there a word in the English language that contains all the vowels?"
Sally Ambrose: "Unquestionably."
Bruce: "What is it?"
Sally: "I just told you."

Nancy Glenn: "Can you type?"
Tom Connolly: "Yes, I type the Columbus system."
Nancy: "What's that?"
Tom: "I discover a key and land on it."

Howard Riley (Student Control officer): "I've had my eye on you for a long time, Miss."
Gwen Day: "Well, why don't you take it off?"

Steve Smith: "How's the team coming, Jim?"
Jim Foster: "Gee, just like counterfeit money! The halves are full of lead, and the quarters can't pass."

Stuart Morshead: "Who gave you that black eye?"
Lefty Stern: "Nobody, you nut! I had to fight for it."

Neighbor: "Is that your ball, young man?"
Samm Axtell: "Any windows or anything broken?"
Neighbor: "No."
Samm: "Thanks. It's mine."

Shirley Humphrey: "I tell you it was that long! I never saw such a fish!"
Naomi Levens: "I believe you."

Patricia Champlain: "I don't see why dentists call their offices dental parlors."
Mary Lou Carlson: "Because they are drawing rooms."

Ruth Beach (After her visit to the country): "Believe it or not, I've seen a man who makes horses. He had one nearly finished when I saw him. He was just nailing on his back feet."

Jacquelyn Stinnett: "I've got a tooth that's driving me to extraction."

MORE TICKLERS

Peter Irving: "How do you treat a bad cold?"
Bob Hunter: "Just use an agonizer to spray your nose until it drops into your throat."

Voice on telephone: "My son is ill today and won't be able tc come to school."
Nurse: "Who is speaking?"
Harry Henderson: "This is my father."

Constance Bissell: "What would you do if you were in my shoes?"
Janet Taylor: "I'd shine them."

George Hobart: "I don't believe half of what I read in print."
Teddy Pappas: "By the looks of your composition that includes the dictionary."

Overheard in the attendance office: "How is it that I saw you pass Willard on your bicycle yesterday when you were supposed to be sick?"
Ken Lopez: "That must have been when I was goin' for the doctor."

Bob Mann: "Balboa found the Pacific Ocean climbing up a mountain."
George Kelly: "What I don't understand about this discovery business is how Balboa knew it was the Pacific Ocean when he had never seen it before."

Richard Cotter: "Joe, you can get rid of money faster than any fellow I know."
Joseph Wood: "True, but I save lots of time, and time, you know, is money."

Kirby Moulton: "Would you like to dance?"
Nancy Andrews: "Certainly. Would you mind finding a partner for me?"

Mignonne Van Court: "Oh, dear, I wonder how long I've been talking. My watch has stopped!"
Dick Ready: "There's a calendar on the wall."

Virginia Linforth: "What good cake! Did you get the recipe out of a cookbook?"
Leota Moulton: "No, I made it out of my head."
Virginia: "It is certainly very light."

Teacher (finishing a long problem): "The result is X equals zero, or nothing."
Bob Forbes (sleepily): "All that work for nothing."

Shout in art room: "Don't touch that poster! The paint's wet!"
Alfred Hicks: "Oh, that doesn't matter. Don't you see I've got my gloves on?"

Shirley Sarjent: "All your marks good?"
Shirley Williams: "Just like Napoleon I went down in history."

Susan Trescher: "I want a country estate, and on top of that I want a mansion."
Patrick Bedford: "And on top of that?"
Susan: "A roof, Silly!"

Bill Hofstetter: "I'm always tired on April first."
Margaret Starbuck: "Why?"
Bill: "You'd be, too, after a March of thirty-one days."

Peggy Young: "This dance floor is slippery."
Bob Reynolds: "It isn't the floor. I just had my shoes shined."

Nancy Allen: "What's the future of 'I give'?"
Joyce Jaeger: "You take."

Jane Biedenbach: "Guess who I've got a date with for the Girls' League Dance?"
Phyllis Heald: "I don't know."
Jane Biedenbach: "I don't either."

Jack Maxwell: "What's a grudge?"
Ray Gaisford: "It's what you keep an automobile in."

Anton Anthony: "Anything you can do better than anyone else?"
Richard Nolder: "Yes, I can read my own writing."

A Wonderful State

The land of sunshine and flowers
Describes California the best,
And at night come restful hours
When the sun sets in the west.

From its mountains to its bay
And the beautiful Golden Gate,
You'll agree with me when I say
California's a wonderful state.
